Abstract:

Bookit is an online bookstore designed using HTML, CSS, and PHP on PhpStorm, which allows users to easily purchase books and add them to their carts. Users can search and filter books based on their preferences, and add them to their cart for a quick and efficient checkout process. Bookit also features a secure payment gateway for safe and secure transactions. With a user-friendly interface, Bookit is the perfect destination for all types of readers.

Introduction:

An Online bookstore allows us to reach a wider audience, reduce costs, and it also offers a more diverse selection of books. However, for a website to succeed, we should be more efficient in the marketing efforts, and provide an user-friendly platform. We believe that the benefits of an online bookstore are more than the challenges that it can go through, providing an efficient shopping expierience for the customers.

Project Requirements:

After requirements collection and analysis phase the following description is provided.

(Data Requirements for A Book Store named “Bookit” that provides books for users.)

- For each user have an account the database keeps track of its Email [Email], First and last name [name] ,It's id [ID] Phone number [Phone] and account type user_type.

To start shopping you press on add to cart to add the items to the cart (store) with specifying the quantity.

it gives a message that product added to cart and the counter on the store increase with each product.

A screenshot of a website with a red border. At the top, a message 'product added to cart!' is displayed in a red box. Below it, there are social media sharing icons (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn) and links for 'new login | register'. In the center, the word 'Bookit' is in red, with a navigation menu 'Home About Shop Contact Orders' to its right. To the right of the menu is a search bar, a user icon, and a red shopping cart icon containing '(1)' with a red arrow pointing to it. Below this, the text 'OUR SHOP' is in large black letters, with 'home / shop' in smaller red text underneath. To the right of the text are several book covers: 'HOW TO BE PARISIAN WHEREVER YOU ARE', 'THE INTELLIGENT INVESTOR', 'Love, Style And BAD HABITS', and 'La Vie à la SIMPLICITÉ'. At the bottom, the text 'LATEST BOOKS' is in bold black letters, with four book covers shown: one for '$20' (blue floral design), '$12' (colorful abstract design for 'THE FOURTH CHILD'), '$17' (blue cover for 'Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix'), and '$18' (yellow cover for 'Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows').

Conclusion:

In this project we learned how to code with PHP as a backend and HTML CSS and Js for front end and event handling. We saw that online bookstores have become widely popular in recent years, offering readers to purchase books from their own homes. While there are a lot of them in the market, there are also a few disadvantages that should be considered. which makes our website unique. Amazon for example, is one of the largest online bookshops. However, its dominance in the market can have negative effects on smaller independent bookstores like our website, potentially leading to a decrease in local options. some booksellers may price their books significantly higher than their market value. It requires careful comparison shopping to ensure you are getting a fair price. We see that Bookit is a local Startup that benefits our country's economy, and young entrepreneurs. With a very user-friendly interface.
